

ASNA is all for

Diversity

About us

Founded in 1989, the Actuarial Students' National Association regroups members from thirteen universities today, representing the majority of actuarial students across Canada.

About the Convention

The convention is our way of enabling a meeting of the minds between established leaders and aspiring followers of the actuarial field. Through in-depth seminars, speeches and social gatherings we hope to stimulate the flow of ideas and match opportunities in Canada's top insurance and consulting employers with dedicated actuarial students from all walks of life.
